

I am disheartened to learn that the FCC is attempting to soften Wisconsin's No Call List. As a lifetime Wisconsin resident I can honestly tell you that the No Call List has been one of the most beneficial laws to hard working people like myself. As a father of two young daughters who works 40+ hours a week, I cherish the limited time I have to myself and my family. For people like me who arrive home after 5pm and go to bed before 10pm, there is already enough interruptions in one's life to make time for dinner with the family and some quality time with the kids. I can honestly tell you that ANY call from a telemarketer, whether once a night or once a month, is an inconvenience. As is often said, telemarketers never call at a convenient time. Whether it be during a meal or when attempting to lay a sick child down for a nap, the distractions and interruptions caused by telemarketers are more than inconvenient, that are an invasion of my personal time. Owning a phone line should not be an invitation for these interruptions and I for one never informed anyone that they could sell my phone number to anyone for such solicitations and intrusions. The No Call List provides individuals such as myself with the only rights that we really have when it comes unrequested solicitations as we are still bombarded with thousands of pieces of junk mail every year. Please, I don't ask for much from the Government...I pay my taxes, and abide by the law. The No Call List to me was one of those small things that provided benefits to even the most obscure of individuals if they chose to take advantage of it. I believe that I am speaking for many Wisconsin residents when I ask the FCC to recognize the wishes of the individuals rather than Corporate America and pay attention to our voices rather than the dollar signs that are probably being flashed before them by corporate lobbyists. PLEASE....Let our voices be heard when we tell you that we do not wish to hear the voices of telemarketers. And please.... DON'T feel free to call me if you have any questions or comments about my opinion. Thank you.
